The War in Kansas!

BLOODY BATTLE!

Thirty Abolitionists Shot!

And Many Drowned!

OSAWATOMIE DESTROYED!

TRAITOR BROWN KILLED!

(From the Louisville Courier, of last Saturday.)

The following is from the last number of the Independent Dispatch:

A battle was fought yesterday between two hundred and fifty pro-Slavery men, under the command of Gen. Hays, and about two hundred abolitionists, commanded by Brown, the assassin. The first fire was from the abolitionists, wounding five pro-Slavery men. A close artillery was then fired at the abolitionist forces, and three of their number were killed.

A charge was immediately made by Gen. Hays, in which not less than thirty of the enemy were killed and four taken prisoners.

The notorious Brown and one of his sons were seriously killed. Many abolitionists in this light attempted to swim the river and a number were drowned.

Osawatomie was burned to the ground, and all the houses with their contents were reduced to ashes. There were no women or children in the place.

We have also the Westport Border Ruffian extra of Sunday evening date, which has the following interesting particulars:

"Glorious News—Osawatomie Taken—Two Abolitionists Killed.—We are indebted to Col. Thomas Hays for the following interesting and gratifying news: That the town of Osawatomie, in Jackson county, Mo., was taken by the pro-Slavery forces on Saturday last, and that two abolitionists were killed.
